Description

Library card required from home

Includes thousands of full-text journals, dissertations, business and economic periodicals, and country and industry reports. This database provides an excellent picture of company and business trends worldwide.

As part of the U.S. Census site, American FactFinder offers a rich source of detailed data on population, housing, economics, geographic and industry statistics. It gives users the ability to create and customize maps, modify statistical tables, and save data in a presentation format. Because of the complexity of some of its capabilities, it also provides excellent video tutorials.
